LIEUT, COL. GEO. C. RICKARDS.

Company A, Corry-Capt. M. N. Baker, First Lieut. Jno. F. Austin, Second Lieut. C. F.

Company C, Bradford—Capt. F. E. Bradley, First Lieut. A. O. Burnes, Second Lieut. Frank

Company D. Oil City-Capt. C. F. Spencer

Company E. Cooperstown-First, Lieut, Jas.

McElheny, Second Lieut. J. Y. Karns.
Company F. Franklin—Capt. Jas. G. Crawford, First. Lieut. C. C. Eckert, Second Lieut.

Geo, Milhader, Company H, Ridgway-Capt. Harry A. Hall,

First Lieut, John Parsons, Second Lieut, Harry

First Lieut, Leon Windsor, Second Lieut. DeF.

A. Wheelock.
Company K. Titusville—Capt. M. R. Rouse,
First Lieut. J. W. Hemphill, Second Lieut. P.

The Eighteenth Regiment.

The eighteenth infantry of Pittsburg, Pa., is one of the oldest organizations in the National Guard of Pennsylvania. It is in the sixty-second year of its existence as either state or

United States troops. The command was organized and sworn into the state service as a company of the old state militia on September 5, 1831, under the title of the

Duquesne Grays, with Rufus L. Baker, at that command of the Allegheney arsenal at Pitts-burg, as the first captain. With such a head first the company was a favorite in the city. Sixteen years later when the Mexican war broke out the company volunteered, was accepted and became company K, first Pennsylvania volunteers. The record of the company in this war was highly creditable. In one fight alone—the bloody contest that followed the sortie from the citadel at Pueblo—the Grays losing over one-third of their men dead and bringing out but a handful of men unwounded.

Among the men who went to Mexico with the

the service again as officers of three-year regi

eighty-eight commissioned officers to Pennsyl-being officially designated as the first battalion.

mand became a full regiment and was given railroad riots of 1877 came and the regiment took the field, being the first called upon. Its conduct then has been a source of pride to every man who has ever served with its colors.

the grand jury which investigated these riots declared in its presentment that the eighteenth regiment had performed its full duty in a cred-itable and soldierly manner, praise that was

In 1883 Col. Guthrie was promoted to adjutant general of the state and was succeeded by Chambers McKibbin, who is now inspector general of Pennsylvania. Ill health compelled

M. Smith, the present commandant of the regi-ment, became colonel. Col. Smith entered the service as a private in the commonwealth artillery, Pennsylvania volunteers, on April 1, 1861; was private Anderson troop, Pennsylvanicavalry, October, 1861; captain fifteenth Penn

the battles of Anthony's Hill, Tenn., Decemb

25, 1854, and Sugar Creek, Ala., December 26, 1864; resigned May 12, 1865; served in the armies of the Ohio, Potomac, Cumberland.

Tennessee and the gulf; entered the National Guard of Pennsylvania October 14, 1878, as captain of company F, eighteenth infantry; major, April 8, 1881; lieutenant colonel. Febru-ary 5, 1883; colonel, September 30, 1884; still in

Under the command of Col. Smith the regimoreland county among the coke workers, and the eighteenth was ordered out. It was the first time

INAUGURAL headaches promptly oured by Bi ment has been twice in active service. spring of 1891 an outbreak occurred in West

ol. McKibbin to resign in 1884 and Norman the number it has since held, "18."

given no other organization.

eral of the United States army.

organization it prospered, and from the Company I, Warren-Capt. F. E. Windsor,

First Lieut. Millord Scheide, Second Lieut. D.

Bordwell.

Webster.

K. James.

W. Andrews.

The regiment is composed of eight com-

SECOND LIEUT. ALFRED G. LLOYD. p. m., and proceeded to Radebaugh, where they emained all night, and were afterward transported to Homestead on Tuesday, July 12, remaining there at what became afterward known as "Camp Sam Black" for twenty-nine days. From start to finish of this duty the battery had a full quota of eighty-five men present for duty.

SURGEON SHODES. Two Gatling guns were issued to the battery on April 20, 1885-model of 1883, with Eccles feed drums. The battery also has one twelvepounder brass Napeleon. Besides these the battery has in its armory four three-inch parrot guns. These, however, are not serviceable and are hardly we the of being considered as a part of the armament.

The present officers of the battery are as follows: Altrel E. Hunt, commissioned May 22, 1884; Louis T. Brown, commissioned November 26,1888; Edward Eichenlaub, jr., commissioned July 20, 1891; Rupert C. Kimmel, commissioned January 7, 1889; James L. Srodes, commis-sioned January 2, 1889; Alfred G. Lloyd, commissioned May 11, 1889.

Capt. Hunt is the president of the Pittsburg Reduction Company, manufacturers of alumi-num, and of the firm of Hunt & Clapp. He has been in Pittsburg since 1880, coming from Nashua. N. H., where he commanded an infantry company of the second regiment of the New Hampshire National Guard, and previously was commandant of an organization of the Massachusetts volunteer militia, first regiment. He is a graduate of Harvard College and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, class of '76, in civil and mining engineering. The Fifth Regiment.

Col. Theodore Burchfield, commander of the fifth regiment, Pennsylvania National Guard, was born in Juniata county. Pa., in 1842; later learned the art of printing. He served two enlistments during the war: served two terms in the Pennsylvania legislature from Blair county. He has been in the National Guard service of Pennsylvania since June 3

COL. THEODORE BURCHFIELD.

He was in service from 1861 to 1865 in the forty-fifth Pennsylvania volunteers; served twelve months and was a prisoner of war at Bell Isle and Andersonville. He organized company B. fifth regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania, in 1880; was captain until 1889.

Rufus C. Elder, the major of this regiment, is a practicing lawyer at Lewiston, Pa. He enlisted as a private July 17, 1877; was elected first lieutenant of company G November 9, 1873, captain May 7, 1883, and as major on April 21, 1892. He is the commander of the second battalion.

The Tenth Regiment. The tenth regiment, National Guard, Pa. was organized in 1873 under command of Col. Jno. A. Black of Greensburg, Pa., who remmission. The military district of the reg-Pennsylvania, viz.: Beaver, Washington, Greene, Fayette and Westmoreland, with headquarters for the last fourteen years at Wash-

There are eight companies, sta-Company A. Monongahela City, Washington county; company B, New Brighton, Beaver county; company C, Uniontown, Fayette county; company D, Conneilsville, Fayette county; company E, Mt. Pleasant, Westmore-land county; company H, Washington, Washington county; company I. Greensburg. Westoreland county; company K, Waynesburg, Greene county. The regiment has attended all the annual encampments of the Pennsylvania Guard since its organization; paraded at the inauguration sidents Garfield, Cleveland and Harrison at Washington, D. C. On September 16, 1887, at Philadelphia, Pa., On September 16, 1887, at Philadelphia, Pa., it participated in a military parade in honor of the centenary of the adoption of the Federal Constitution. On April 39, 1889, it was also paraded in the city of New York, participating in the centennial celebration of the inauguration of President Washington. The regiment was fast called to do active service deep the selffirst called to do active service during the rail-road riots in the city of Pittsburg in July, 1877; It saw hard service, remaining on duty one month. Its next active duty was during the great labor strike in the coke regions of Westmoreland county, Pa., near Mt. Pleasant, in April, 1891. The entire regiment remained on duty for about three weeks, and two of its compa-nies. E of Mt. Pleasant and C of Uniontown, almost two months. The last active service was in July and August, 1892, during the labor riots at Homestead, Allegheny county, Pa., the regiment remaining on duty aver one month, performing the arduous service of troops in the field. The following are the officers of the tenth regiment, National Guard of Pennsyl-

onel, Jas. B. R. Streator; major, Wm. W. Mowry; adjutant, S. B. Hayes, of Washington, Pa.; surgeon, Geo. W. Neff. Masontown, Pa.; assistant surgeon, Wm. S. Grim, Beaver Falls, Pa.; quartermaster, Edward E. Robbins. Greensburg, Pa.; inspector rifle practice. E. Critchfield, Mt. Pleasant, Pa.; chaplain, Jos. L. Hunter, Fairchance. Pa. Non-commissioned staff: Sergeant major, James R. Burnside, Washington, Pa.; quartermaster sergeant, W. C. Bayne, Greensburg, Pa.; commissary sergeant, Robert W. Anderson, Rochester, Pa.; hospital steward, Gua. B. Stoy, Waynesburg, Pa.; drum major, H. B. Harris, New Brighton, Pa.

Commissioned officers—Company A. captain, F.C. Wescoat; first lieutenant, J. L. Augendo-bler; second lieutenant, Gus Schaaf, of Monon-

Company B, captain, H. C. Cuthbertson; first lieutenant, E. Staley; second lieutenant, C. M. Hobaugh, of New Brighton, Pa. Company C, captain. L. H. Frasher; first lieutenant, T. R. Wakefield; second lieutenant, Harry Eierer, of Uniontown, Pa.
Company D. captain. W. A. Munson; first lieutenant, Alex. Johnson; second lieutenant, Sam. Du Shane, of Connellsville, Pa.

Company E, captain, J. A. Loar; first lieu-tenant, Jas. Harkins; second lieutenant, John Thompson, of Mt. Pleasant, Pa. Company H, captain, Jas. E. Barrett; first lieutenant, Sheiby Means; second lieutenant, John Luther, of Washington, Pa. Company I, captain, Jas. M. Laird; first lieutenant, John Kilgore; second lieutenant, Richard Reamer, of Greensburg, Pa.

Company K, captain, John F. Pauley; first lieutenant, A. J. Worley; second lieutenant, T. Crago, of Waynesburg, Pa.

S. Crago, of Waynesburg, Pa.

Col. Alex. L. Hawkins, tenth regiment, National Guard Pennsylvania, Washington. Pa., born in Washington county, Pa., September 6.
1843. educated at George's Creek Academy and Waynesburg College; enlisted in company K.

Lieut. Col. Geo. C. Richards, commander; Maynesburg College; enlisted in company K. 1843. educated at George's Creek Academy and Waynesburg College; enlisted in company K. fifteenth Pennsylvania cavalry, August 7, 1862; served as corporal and sergeant; promoted first heatenant, company H, 101st U. S. C. L. promoted captain in 1864; on staff of Maj. Gen. Chuton B. Fisk during 1865. Last duty per-Clinton B. Fisk during 1865. Last duty per-formed for the government was dismantling of Fort Bruce, Clarksville, Tenn., and Fort Donelson, on Cumberland river. Participated in the battle of Antietam and the various engagements of the "Army of the Cumberland" om November, 1862; mustered out January 21. 1866; since the war engaged in breeding live stock and milling; served as treasurer of Washington county, Pa., in 1876-7-8; entered the National Guard of Pennsylvania January 1. 877, as captain of company II, tenth regiment; comoded to colonel, February 27, 1879; re-lected February 27, 1884; re-elected February 27, 1889, and now senior colonel of the state of Pennsylvania. During service at Homestead, Pa. in July and August, 1892, commanded a provisional brigade composed of the fourth egiment infantry, tenth regiment infantry, ourteenth regiment infantry and battery C

The Fourteenth Regiment. The fourteenth regiment of the Pennsylvania National Guard, with headquarters at Pittsburg. was organized in June, 1870, and since then has had a very creditable career and has carned for itself a very high reputation for soldierly qualities. Its present commanding officer, Col. P. D. Perchment, served during the war for two years with the fourteenth Pennsylvania infantry and one year with the seventh Missouri cavalry and was once wounded. His connection with the National Guard has extended over twenty-two years, and in that time he has risen from the position of sergeant to that of colonel of the regiment. The fourteenth was on duty for four months at Johnstown, preserving the peace after the flood, and was at Homestead last summer for thirty days.

National Guard, Fennsylvania.

COL. P. D. PERCHMENT. This regiment was selected to represent the 1871. going up through the various grades to colonel. He is now in his twelfth year in that position, and is at present mayor of the city of Althona.

They saw their quota of service and came back to Pittsburg, when the regiment was mustered out at the expiration of the period of enlistment. With this the company ceased to exist in arms and equipment the troop adheres strictly to United States army regulations. For chaplain of the famous Bucktail regiment, and as such the members who were left entering Maj. Graham was a captain in the first Pennthese service again as officers of three-year regiment. svivania cavalry. The officers of the regiment Lieut, Col. W. J. Glenn, Maj. Jas. L. Graham; staff, First Lient, and Adjt. John W. Hubbard, staff, First Lient, and Adjt. John W. Handler, First Lieut, and Quartermaster Wm. S. Mc-Lain, Maj. and Surg. A. E. McCandless, First was some time before definite action was taken. Finally on August 19, 1869, a meeting taken. Finally on August 19, 1869, a meeting Lieut. and Asst. Surg. Wm. McC. Johnston, First Lieut. and Asst. Surg. D. G. Foster, First Lieut. and Inspector of Rifle Practice Wm. S. Brown, Capt. and Chaplain Latshaw McGuire; captain. With the prestige gained both at home company C. Capt. J. W. Nesbitt; company F. Capt. A. G. Grin; company E, Capt. W. E. Thompson; company B, Capt. Jas. E. Taylor; company K, Caot. J. Harry Corbett; company I, second company was formed, and inside of a Capt. James Hamilton; company E. Capt. Jos.

Fifteenth Regiment. The fifteenth regiment was organized about 1874. Its first commander was P. B. Carpenter, who served as its colonel for a period of ten years. The regiment was called into active service first during the riots of 1877, serving for a period of one month. The regiment has participated in all the encampments and parades of the National Guard since its organization. It was called into service on the 11th of July 1892, at Homestead, and remained on duty until the 19th day of September, a period of seventy-one days. The regiment bears an excellent reputation throughout the state as one of its good military organizations of which both officers and men feel justly proud and which they endeavor to maintain. The headquarters of the regiment are located at Greenville. The officers are as

COL. WM. A. KREPS.

Colonel, William A. Kreps, Mercer; lieutenant colonel, William T. Mechling, Butler; masigned in 1878, prior to the termination of his jor, D. S. Crawford, Erie; adjutant, D. P. Packard, Greenville; surgeon, Maj. Salem Heilman, Sharon; assistant surgeon, Lieut. John M Martin, Grove City; assistant surgeon, Lieut John J. Finerty, Erie; chaplain, Ken C. Hays Meadville; quartermaster, A. P. Buckholdt, Grove City; inspector rifle practice, John L. Caldwell, Greenville; captain company A. Jas. H. Hoskinson, Erie; captain company A. Jas.
H. Hoskinson, Erie; captain company B, Frank
C. Baker, Meadville; first lieutenant company B, George W. O Daniel, Meadville; second lieutenant company B, Charles Dennis, Meadville; captain company C. Harry C. Mabie, Erie; captain company D. A. J. Davis, Clarion; first ecutenant company D, John H. Near, Clarion; econd lieutenant company D, H. A. Bigley, Clarion; captain company E. Ira McJunkin, Butler: first lieutenant company E. Alexander M. Borland, Butler; second lieutenant company E. George S. Mechling, Butler; captain company F. John W. Campbell, Grove City; first atenant company F, William A, McCoy City; second lieutenant company F, Thomas Armstrong, Grove City; captain company G, William W. Hanno, Sharon; first lieutenant company G, George W. Higgens, Sharon; second sharon; second heutenant company G, George W. McCleary, Sharon; captain company K. Daniel F. Mertz, Greenville; first lieutenant company K, Benjamin F. Perkins, Greenville; second lieutenant company K, Philip H. Bortz, Greenville.

Col. W. A. Kreps, commander of the fifteenth regiment, was born and reared in the state of Pennsylvania. In 1854, et the conference of the state of Pennsylvania.

state of Pennsylvania. In 1864 at the age of seventeen years he enlisted in the fifteenth Pennsylvania volunteer cavalry and served until the close of the war. In May, 1875, Col. Kreps entered the National Guard service as captain of company K, fifteenth regiment; was re-elected to the same position in 1880 and in the year 1883 was promoted to the majorship of the regiment. In 1884 a vacancy occurring in the colonelcy of the regiment he was promto that position and has been in continuous to that position and has been in continuous command since that time.

The Sixteenth Regiment.

The sixteenth regiment. Pennsylvanis National Guards. was organized in December, 1878, out of parts of the old fifteenth and seventeenth regiments, with Jno. A. Wiley, now brigadier general, as colonel. The Improvement in the guards since then has been the constant admiration of military critics, and in this advance the sixteenth has not only kept pace, but has forged its way steadily to the front until it now occupies a leading place in the National Guards of Pennsylvania. It is the veteran regiment of the Homestead strike companies, having served ninety-five days, or twenty-five days longer than any other regiment. The members of the sixteenth are sheeters, last year they won the regimental trophy, leading next heat regiment to the tanks of the governor for its creditable arrange. shooters, last year they won the regimental trophy, leading next best regiment by twenty points in the brigade shoot, contested for by twelve picked marksmen from each brigade.

The second regiment won by a score of 985 points and the sixteenth furnished six of the twelve men.

It was on duty there for eighteen days, and again, for the third time in its history as a state regiment, was relieved with the thanks of the authorities.

It was on duty there for eighteen days, and again, for the third time in its history as a state regiment, was relieved with the thanks of the authorities.

It was on duty there for eighteen days, and again, for the third time in its history as a state regiment, was relieved with the thanks of the numbers and efficiency until it the authorities.

It was on duty there for eighteen days, and again, for the third time in its history as a state regiment, was relieved with the thanks of the numbers and efficiency until it the authorities.

We consider the regiment are as follows:

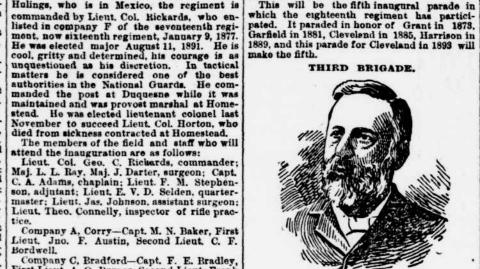

Armisted M. Webb. Second battalion—Major, Wm. D. Robinson; adjutant, Lieut. Chas. W. Nagle. Third battalion—Major, R. Dorsey.

Notice: authorities.

The roster of the regiment at this time is as follows: Colonel, Norman M. Smith: lieutenant colonel, Frank I. Rutledge; major, J. Conrad Kay; adjutant, Harry F. Davis; quartermaster, William B. Cowpland; inspector of rifle practice, T. J. Keenan, jr.; surgeon, C. Chase Wiley; assistant surgeons, S. Oscar Brumbaugh and W. B. Robeson; chaplain, John Brumbaugh and W. B. Robeson; chaplain, John L. Milligan; company A, Capt. Charles A. Roessing, First Lieut. James R. Treacy, Second Lieut. James A. Wallace; company B, Capt. William A. Doak, First Lieut. C. C. Huff, Second Lieut. K. W. Murray; company C, Capt. William H. Davis, First Lieut. O. S. Henry, Second Lieut. W. H. South; company D, Capt. William N. Harvey, First Lieut. John H. Dougherty, Second Lieut. Charles E. Sharpe; company E. Capt. William Little, First Lieut. James H. Bigger; company F. Capt. W. M. Awl, First Lieut. Joseph Kercher. Second Lieut. Thomas Letzkus; company G, Capt. John H. Rust; company H, Capt. R. W. A. Simmons, First Lieut. F. E. Doak, Second Lieut. T. J. Reneker.

This will be the fifth inaugural parade in which the eighteenth regiment has participated. It paraded in honor of Grant in 1873, Garfield in 1881, Clevelend in 1885, Harrison in 1889, and this parade for Cleveland in 1893 will anies, 497 men. In the absence of Col. Hulings, who is in Mexico, the regiment is

BRIG. GEN. JOHN P. S. GOBIN.

This cavalry troop was organized at Harrisburg. Pa., February 18, 1888, with the following commissioned officers: Captain, Harman A. Perkins; first lieutenant, Henry A. Walkenmeyer; second lieutenant, Frederick M. Ott; lieutenant, the present officers were elected and commissioned: Captain, Frederick M. Ott: first ieutenant, Charles P. Meck: second lieutenant, John M. Major. Assistant Surgeon John A. Fritchey was reappointed and Thomas J. Beil was appointed quartermaster, with rank of second lieutenant. The troop now has five commissioned officers and sixty enlisted menthe maximum allowed by law.

The troop at once became a part of the third brigade, National Guard of Pennsylvania. This assignment put that brigade upon the same footing as the other two; the first brigade hav-ing attached to it the first troop, Philadelphia city cavalry, and the second brigade having the Sheridan troop of Tyrone,

Duquesne Grays, with Rufus L. Baker, at that
But the organization of a new troop did more time a major in the United States army in than merely equalize the three brigades. It stimulated interest in the cavalry branch of the service in the guard, and the three troops acting together as a provisional squadron have developed more rapidly on that account, and now form a homogeneous body that is spoken of by high military authority as the nucleus of a fine cavary regiment. That such a regiment could easily be added to the guard, when desired, is French; first lieutenant, Stanley W. Davenport; shown by the fact that the admission of the troop was accomplished with difficulty, after a troops of cavalry in two of the principal cities within the territory of the third brigade, for the honor of admission into the guard at that Drum, who afterward became adjutant gen-When the war was over the company came home and once again entered the state service as the Duquesne Grays in 1849. In 1861 the nine miles. A large part of the men have been rebellion again called the command into the raised in the country and have been accustomed valley, which has given many illustrious names volunteers, one of the three months' regiments. when needed, They saw their quota of service and came back the vicinity.

armory purposes the troop occupies a large ments. Altogether this one company furnished market purposes. Dismounted drills are held weekly. A commodious yard surrounded b stabling, appurtenant to the market building, furnishes all needed accommodations for the vania regiments.

After the war the survivors decided to again reorganize as a part of the state forces, but it occasions of mounted parades or service.

In the lifetime of this organization the most mportant events prior to the summer of 1892 have been the trip to Washington, March 4. 1889, to participate in the inaugural parade, and the trip to New York city to take part in the parade on the centennial anniversary of Washington's inauguration, April 30, 1889. Upon both of these occasions the troop and second company was formed, and inside of a month two more were added, the organization horses were transported by railroad, and valua-ble experience in the duties of cavalrymen was thus gained. With the exception of the sum enth division, Duque-ne Grays. Recruits mer of 1892 the troop has encamped at Mount Gretna, Lebanon county, each year since its organization, beginning with the third brigade still kept coming in and were formed into new companies, and on December 27, 1871, the comencampment, 1888. proceeding in heavy marching order to and from camp on each occasion. The first colonel was David Campbell, who The benefit derived from these practice marche retired in 1874. He was succeeded by Pressley N. Guthrie. While the latter was in command s of very great consequence. Last summer (July, 1892) the troop had ar experience of field service at Homestead. The Pennsylvania responded to the call of Gov. Pat-tison is a matter of history. Marching orders were received by the Governor's Troop between 1 and 2 o'clock on the morning of July 11, and before 9 a.m. the troop—fifty-nine men and fifty-eight horses—was entirely ready to board the train. The remaining men joined the troop in the next few days, so that the entire me bership of the command-sixty-four at that time-appeared at the annual inspection held by the adjutant general at Homestead. The troop at Homestead formed part of the provisional cavalry squadron, under the command of Capt. C. S. W. Jones of the Sheridan

Returning from Homestead with the health of the men unimpaired, and their efficiency as sol-diers increased by the exacting duties of this term of service, the accustomed drill has been entered upon with renewed interest and zest.

The Fourth Regiment. The fourth regiment of the Pennsylvania Na tional Guard has its headquarters at Marietta, Pa. It is under the efficient command of Col. David Brainard Case and has the following staff of officers: Lieutenant colonel, C. T. O'Neil, Allentown; major, John P. Earnest, Pine Grove. Staff: Surgeon, Maj. J. B. Potteiger, Hamburg; asst. surgeons, Lieut. Geo. H. Halberstadt, Pottsville: Lieut. Morris L. Cawley, Allentown; Pottsville; Lieut. Morris L. Cawley, Allentown; chaplain, Capt. T. C. Billheimer, Reading; adjutant, Lieut. Ed. B. Eckman, Columbia; quartermaster, Lieut. Simon B. Cameron, Lochaber, Lancaster County; inspector of rifle practice, Lieut. Martin H. Smith, Columbia. Non-commissioned staff -Sergeant major, -: hospital steward, Sergt. C. S. Cummings, Schuylkil Haven; quartermaster sergeant, Sergt. S. C. Albright, Maytown; commissary sergeant, Sergt. S. C. Albright, Maytown; commissary sergeant, Sergt. Wilson Smoyer, Emaus; principal musician, B. McMulty, Allentown.

Company A. Readung—Captain, H. J. Christoph; first lieutenant, John C. Hintz; second lieutenant, Harry M. Phillippi. Company B. Allenger, Harry M. Phillippi.

cavairy, October, 1801; captain nineteenth Pennsylvania cavairy 1862; captain nineteenth Pennsylvania cavairy 1863; brevetted major "for distinguished gallantry" at the battle of Hollow Tree Gap. Tenn., December 25, 1864, and lieutenant colonel "for distinguished gallantry" at the battles of Anthony's Hill Tenn. December aut, Harry M. Phillippi. Company B, Allentown-Captain, James L. Schsadt: first lieutenant, James A. Medlar; second lieutenant, Frank G. Roth. Company E, Hamburg-Captain Captain Capta

Frank G. Roth. Company E, Hamburg—Captain, Charles F. Seaman; first Heutenant, Benj. F. Gahris; second lieutenant, James M. Baker. Company F, Pottsville—Captain, E. D. Smith; first lieutenant, Preston C. Thomas; second lieutenant, John Bishop. Company C, Columbis—Captain, Frank A. Bennett; first lieutenant, Wm. Aherne; second lieutenant, Geo. S. Cristy. Company D, Allentown—Capt. Wm. D. Mickley; first lieutenant, Charles Spangler; second lieutenant, Evan S. Witemeyer. Company G. Pine Grove—Capt. James W. Umbenhauer; first lieutenant, Levi F. McDonough; second lieutenant, Franklin B. Lutz. Company H, Slatington—Capt. Frank Jacobs; first lieutenant, Wm. H. Keener; second lieutenant, Samuel W. Marshall.

The Ninth Regiment. The Ninth Regiment.

The present ninth regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania, was organized with head quarters at Wilkesbarre on the 24th of Jun 1879, taking the number and place of the old ninth regiment, which was disbanded upon the general reorganization of the militia system of Pennsylvania, under the style of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, by the act of 12th June, 1878. The Wilkesbarre Fencibles, now company B, ninth regiment, was the nucleus aroun which the present regiment was formed Col. G. Murray Reynolds was commissione colonel July 25, 1879, and continued commande of the regiment until June 10, 1885, after have

COL. MORRIS J. KECK.

This regiment is the senior regiment of the third brigade, and by virtue of Gen. J. P. S. Gobin, as senior brigade commander of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, the ninth regiment today. This organization, whose fame is the colonel at 2 o'clock Monday morning, July 11, and in six hours and twenty minutes from the time of the receipt of the order the regi-ment, with full ranks. marched from its armory in Wilkesbarre, ready to take the train for the seat of trouble.

The mobilization of the troops in the Homestead campaign was one of the most remarkable military demonstrations ever made, and to the ninth regiment belongs the credit of reporting this command ready for the march in less time than any other regiment in the state.

The citizens of Wilkesbarre have built for the regiment one of the finest armories in the state of Pennsylvania, at a cost of $75,000. The armory was completed and dedicated on the

this regiment is at Wilkesbarre, where four of this regiment is at Wilkesbarre, where four of the companies are located. The other four companies are located in adjoining towns, within a radius of seven miles, and with the un-equaled railroad facilities which encompass the city the command can be concentrated at the regimental headquarters in thirty minutes. The following is the roster of the officers of the regiment. Colonel Morris I. Meak lien. the regiment: Colonel, Morris J. Keck; lieutenant colonel, Wm. C. Price; major, C. Bow. Dougherty; adjutant, John S. Harding; quartermaster, Lieut, E. G. Mercur; surgeon, Major meyer; second lieutenant, Frederick M. Ott; assistant surgeon, with rank of first lieutenant, John A. Fritchey. A little over a year ago, upon the resignation of the captain and first Rev. Wm. J. Day; sergeant major, Stewart L. Barnes; quartermaster sergeant, A. E. Colla-mer; commissary sergeant, Wm. Sharpe; hos-pital steward, Henry C. Tuck; principal musi-

Company A. Wilkesbarre, captain, Wm. H. Brodhead; first lieutenant, Charles L. Peck; second lieutenant, H. R. Williams. Company B, Wilkesbarre, captain, W. S. Marshall; first lieutenant, Thomas Ohlman; second lieutenant, E. G. Lorah. Company C. Pittston, captain, J. F. J. Calla-han; first lieutenant, E. G. Gage; second lieutenant, J. M. Jones.

Company D. Wilkesbarre, captain, Charles R.

Connor; first lieutenant, O. H. Bell; second ieutenant, F. F. Turner. Company E, Parsons, captain, George Wallace. jr.: first lieutenant, O. W. Sword; second lieutenant, Robert Wallace. Company F, Wilkesbarre, captain, Darious Meyers; first lieutenant, E. W. Newton; second lieutenant, George McCleery.

Company H. Pittston, captain, John T. Flannery; first lieutenant, M. J. Buckley; second lieutenant, M. J. Brennan. second heutenant, Dr. F. L. McKee. Attached to the regiment is an excellent mil-time in favor of the governor's troop.

The membership of the governor's troop is drawn from all occupations, the men residing in the city of Harrisburg and in the surrounding and full rinks are reported at the inaugur. same as is worn by the whole National Guard as the Duquesne Grays in 1849. In 1861 the mines. A large part of the men have been decustomed field. As promptly as in 1846 the company volunteered; this time it was mustered into the service as company B. twelfth Pennsylvania volunteers, one of the three months' regiments.

The mines. A large part of the men have been decustomed to the country and have been accustomed to the country as soldiers and statesmen. That them own their own horses, but those who do not find no difficulty in hiring suitable mounts when needed, good horses being numerous in the lest young men of the lest young m ted in the State, War and Navy building. The Twelfth Regiment.

The twelfth regiment, National Guard Pennsylvania, dates back to the time of the revolutionary war in its section of the country. One of the companies is from Sunbury, where the headquarters were located at that time. The companies of the regiment are located as follows: Company H, Lock Haven; companies B. D and G. Williamsport; company C. Milton; company A. Lewisburgh; company F. Danville, and company E, Sunbary. Every enlisted mar and all the officers are qualified marksmen, and have been for the past three years.

COL. JAMES B. CORTELL. Col. James B. Corvell, in command of the egiment, was educated at the Episcopal Acad emy. Cheshire. Conn., from which place he graduated in 1876. His military record is as ows: Private company G, twelfth regiment. May 22, 1880; first sergeant, July 20, 1880; second lieutenant. September 23, 1881; major and inspector of the third brigade, June 20, 1885, The list of officers of the regiment is as fol-

James B. Coryell, Williamsport, Pa., colone Sweisfort, Danville, Pa., lieutenant colonel; P. Brooke, Lewisburgh, Pa., major; Wm. C. King, Williamsport, Pa., adjutant; Wm. M. Du Four, Williamsport, Pa., inspector of rifle prac-tice; O. L. Nichols. Williamsport, Pa., quarter-master; E. D. Lumley. Williamsport. Pa., major and surgeon; J. F. Reipsnyder, Milton, lieutenant and assistant surgeon; M. L. Focht, Lewisburgh, lieutenant and assistant surgeon; G. W. Geshard, Lock Haven, chaplain.

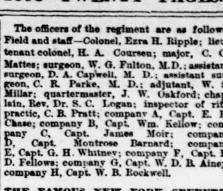

The twelfth regiment is the only regiment in the National Guard of Pennsylvania having fully equipped signal corps. They are fully equipped with flags, torches and heliographs. At Homestead last summer all communications between the headquarters of Gen. Snowden and the provisional brigade, under command of Col. Hawkins, was carried on through this corps, one-half of which was stationed on one side of the river and the other half upon the other. Maj. Volkmar made special mention of it in his report.

The Thirteenth Regiment. The thirteenth regiment, N. G. P., third rigade, has its headquarters at Scranton. It is one of the leading organizations in the guard more especially on account of the prominenc it has achieved by its high standard of marks manship.

Every man in the regiment is a qualified marksman. This has been so for the five years past and is now a condition of membership. Every man must become a qualified marksman every season. The regiment stands first in the state in figure of efficiency and was also the first in the preceding year. When called to Homestead last year was on the march within six hours from time telegraphic orders were re-

THE FAMOUS NEW YORK SEVENTH. It Once Again Marches on the Asphalt of

The seventh regiment, the pride of New The seventh regiment, the pride of New fire companies in the state, and has carried off York, was as usual one of the most conspic the honors as well as the money.

Capt. Darwin E. Vunk enlisted in the Na-National Guard of Pennsylvania, the ninth regiment occupies the extreme right of the line. Col. Keck is a thorough soldier, an able commander and has brought the regiment to a very proud position in the National Guard.

The discipline of the command is excellent, and they are ever ready to respond to the call railroad. The regiment is upward of a thought of dury. When Ger Pattiers redered each of the call railroad. The regiment is upward of a thought of the command is excellent. The discipline of the command is excellent, and they are ever ready to respond to the call to future. When Gov. Pattison ordered out the National Guard of Pennsylvania to suppress the riot at Homestead last July the order came to the colonel at 2 o'clock Monday morning, July 11, and in six hours and twenty minutes from traveled from New York by the Pennsylvania railroad. The regiment is upward of a thousand strong, and is under the command of Col. Daniel Appleton. It is exclusive in its membership, and is most representative of the intelligence, wealth and the commercial enterprise of the great metapolicies. prise of the great metropolis.

The regiment has an unsullied record for ourage and valor. In the hearts of all Washingtonians they should have a warm spot, for the march of the seventh regiment to this city in 1861 was one of the remarkable and mem-orable events of the rebellion. At a crisis in the affairs of the nation when it seemed almost certain that the government was about to perish the young men of the seventh seized the arms which in days of peace and as a manly pastime they had learned to use with skill, and, abandoning their business pursuits at a sacrifice of untold thousands, hastened away to the relief of the national capital. For many years this regiment had been the pride of New unfurled the stars and stripes the excitement in the city was intense.

LIEUT. COL. GEO. M. SMITH. The military organization now known as the eventh regiment commenced its existence in the year 1806 by the organization of its first four companies, and its origin is directly traceable to circumstances of great historical interest. From that time until the present affairs which concerned the welfare of the state or Union, as well as all celebrations in which the militia has taken part.

The regiment is composed of ten companies and will be headed by the Seventh Regiment Band, which is almost as famous as the organ-

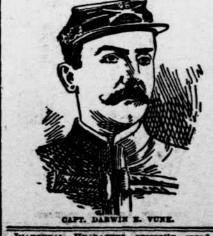

The following is a full roster of the officer Daniel Appleton; lieutenant colonel, George Moore Smith; major, William H. Kipp; adju-tant, Francis G. Landon; quartermaster, John F. Long; commissary of subsistence, Walter G. Schuyler; inspector of rifle practice, William H. Palmer; surgeon, Daniel M. Stimson, M. D.; assistant surgeon, William A. Valen-tine, M. D.; chaplain, John R. Paxton, D. D. Non-commissioned staff—Sergeant major, George J. Weaver; commissary sergeant, William H. Heisser; ordnance sergeant, Jonathan Dwight, jr.; hospital steward, William B. Freeman; drum major, John M. Smith; color bearer. Peter D. Braisted, jr.; general guide, John K. Green. Company A-Captain, Augustus W. Conover lieutenants, Andrew J. Eccles and Charles F Company B-Captain, Daniel A. Nesbitt: lieutenants, Harry M. Nesbitt and James E. Schuyler. Company C-Captain. Don Alonzo Pollard; ieutenants, John W. McDougall and Addison McDougall. ieutenants, J. Watson Cochran and Robert Mazet. Company E-Captain, George B. Roads; lieutenants, Walter S. Wilson and Austin E. Company F—Captain, George W. Rand; ieutenants, Morton B. Stelle and Charles A. Appleton. Company G.—Captain, James C. Abrams, lieutenants, James B. Dewson and John Mc-Greevey.

Company H—Captain, Charles E. Lydecker, lieutenants, John B. Holland and William J. Company I—Captain, James Thorne Harper; lieutenants, Horace C. Duval and George H.

Company K-Captain. Eugene T. Kirkland; ieutenants, Robert McLean and Fred Van Lennep. A WELL-KNOWN ORGANIZATION.

The Forty-Sixth Separate Company of the New York National Guard in the Parade. The forty-sixth separate company, National tenant colonel, H. A. Coursen; major, C. C.

Mattes; surgeon, W. G. Fulton, M.D.; assistant surgeon, D. A. Capwell, M. D.; assistant surgeon, C. R. Parke, M. D.; adjutant, W. S.
Millar; quartermaster, J. W. Oskford; chaplain, Rev. Dr. S. C. Logan; inspector of rifle practic, C. B. Pratt; company A, Capt. E. E.
Chase; company B, Capt. Wm. Kellow; company C, Capt. James Moir; company C, Capt. James Moir; company B, Capt. Montrose Barnard; company E, Capt. G. H. Whitney; company F, Capt. E.
D. Fellows; company G, Capt. W. D. R. Ainey; company H, Capt. W. B. Rockwell. during the railroad strike at Buffalo last summer. Before the company was a year old it went to state camp for a tour of service, and was then considered by the state officials as second to none in the state. Last fall the company decided to hold a fair for the purpose of raising funds to attend the inauguration of the next President, whether democratic or republican, not merely for their own pleasure, but to have Montgomery county representations. Horace McElderry; hospital steward, W. R. Morrison; paymaster sergeant, Herbert N. Anderson; commissary sergeant, E. B. Duvaly derson; commissary sergeant, E. B. Duvaly ordnance sergeant, W. S. Lilly; drum major, F. Czarnowski: color sergeant, Joseph Caskey, Company officers: A—Capt. L. M. Bawlings, First Lieut, John Himckley, Second Lieut, J. J. Jackson, jr. C—Capt. Robert P. Brown, First Lieut, W. Ewing Harvey, Second Lieut, Elbert Thompson, D—Capt. George C. Cole. or republican, not merely for their own pleasure, but to have Montgomery county represented at the national capital on this occasion. The company has drilled with some of the best > tional Guard in 1870 and served four years; was then discharged on account of the regi-ment being mustered out of state service. In 1884 he organized a division of uniformed rank Knights of Pythias, which became one of the finest divisions in the United States, under his command. When the forty-sixth company was mustered into service he was commis-sioned captain, and is well supported by his able first licutedant, George Hughes, and surgeon, Dr. Hyland.

ore's Gallant Soldier Boys Help to Swell the Great Pageant.

nauguration is the fifth regiment of the Maryland National Guard. This is the great Baltimore regiment that numbers in its ranks some of the very finest young men of the monumental city. The regiment was organized in Philadelphia on the 4th of July, 1876, on which day the celebration of the centenary of 1867 and has taken part in every inaugural parade since that of 1873. It is now under the command of Col. W. A. Boykin, and under his careful attention it has taken a very high place of crack drill organization, and its officers.

Which day the celebration of the centenary of American liberty reached its height, Maryland was represented by a detachment of the fifth. Lieut Col. Symington was elected to the command of the regiment in April, 1878. In 1880 Col. W. H. 8. Burgwyn was chosen to the command of the regiment in April, 1878. as a crack drill organization, and its officers have good reason for the belief that there is nothing in the parade that can give them point-

Col. Boykin's command consists of twelve | mand and became known throughout the councompanies, divided into three battalions. They are drilled under the United States regulations and will march in twenty-four files, solid, or about fifty-five men to a company. The fifth was an applicant for the position of guard of honor to the President-electand they had many earnest backers, but they concurred gracefully in the decision of the grand marshal of the parade. The personnel of the regiment is above reproach and its officers cannot be surpassed, probably, by any regiment in the Natinal Guard. Col. Boykin brings with him, all told, about 700 officers and men.

Col. W. A. Boykin, the popular commandan of the fifth, was born in Richmond, Va., April 9, 1851, and is a son of the late Gen. Francis Marshall Boykin. He was brought up at the beautiful country home of his father, which is situated on the James river, in Isle of Wight first Maryland regiment, C.S.A., under the county. Early in 1862, the beginning of the second year of the war, the dwelling, with valusecond year of the war, the dwelling, with valuable plate, funiture, barns, stables, &c., was the first regiment was engaged, from Front burned by the Union army.

The family then moved to Richmond, where the prospective colonel was sent to school, and completed his education at Aberdeen Academy, King and Queen county, and was graduated at bavidson College, North Carolina. He accepted a situation in Norfolk, where he resided Ferry, battles of Sharpsburg and Shepherdscepted a situation in Norfolk, where he resided until 1890, when he moved with his family to Baltimore. He is a member of the prosperous firm of Ulman, Boykin & Co., and enjoys the confidence of the entire business community.

Col. Boykin commenced his mulitary career as a member of the Norfolk Light Artillery Blues, and for eight years was one of its most business. Later joined Gen. Lee at Atlanta, was in the battles of Light Blues, and for eight years was one of its most light years was necessarily light years was one of its most light years was one of its most light years was necessarily light years was nece ealous members. He first saw the fifth Mary-and in Boston in 1876 at the unveiling of the Bunker Hill monument, and was impressed with its splendid marching and fine personnel When he came to Bultimore he was persuaded by his friend, the late Capt. William P. Zollinger, who commanded the fifth during the B. and O. riots in 1877, to accept the first lieutenancy of company K, which he built up to be one of the largest and finest companies of the regiment. When the regiment is the regiment.

the regiment. He was made captain of com-pany K, unanimously elected major, then lieutenant colonel, and finally, in May, 1890, just before the regiment visited Richmond to participate in the ceremony attending the unparticipate in the ceremony attending the un-veiling of the Lee statue, he was made colonel, and commanded the regiment on that occasion. Col. Boykin is a thorough soldier, a strict disciplinarian, is impartial to a degree, and al-ways has an eye to the personal comfort of his men. From about 400 men he has built the fifth Maryland up to 750 enlisted men, 54 com-missioned officers and 75 musicians, making in all nearly 900 men and officers of that he will all nearly 900 men and officers, so that he will take 1,000 enlisted men to Chicago next sum-mer. His influence with the Baltimore city council secured for the regiment an ap-propriation sufficient to put the armory in a splendid condition, and it can be safely said that under the command of Col. Boykin the regiment has attained a higher state of efficiency than ever before in its history. He has the an ever before in its history. He has the confidence and esteem of the entire command, he members of which appreciate the work he THE REGIMENTAL ROSTER

The roster of the regiment is as follows: Field staff-Colonel, Wm. A. Boykin; lieu-enant colonel, Frank Markoe; adjutant, Capt. Wm. Gilmor Hoffman, jr.; surgeon, Maj. Wm. Mh. Crim; assistant surgeon, Capt. I. R. Trimble; chaplain, Capt. Wm. M. Dame; quartermaster, Capt. Robt. J. Miller; commissary, Capt. E. C. Johnson; ordnance officer, Capt. Bradley T. Stokes; paymaster, Capt. C. O'D. Lee; inspector of rifle practice, Henry Keyser.

Battalion organization—First battalion—Major, Robert Riddle Brown; adjutant, Lieut.

Wm. D. Robinson; adjutant, Lieut. Chas. W. Nagle. Third battailon—Major, R. Dorsey Coale; adjutant, S. Johnson Por. Non-commissioned staff Sergeant major, A.
L. Frederick; quartermaster sergeant, Alex.
Hassenkamp; assistant quartermaster sergeant,
Horace McElderry; hospital steward, W. R. Elbert Thompson, D-Capt. George C. Cole, First Lieut. A. G. Davis, Second Lieut. T. H. Lapsley. E.—Capt. Harry Pennington, First Lieut. Severn Nottingham, Second Lieut. J. C. Warrington. F.—Capt. Clinton I. Biggs, First Lieut. Ianon Fisher, Second Lieut. Charles R. Spence. G.—Capt. G. Baker Clotworthy, First Lieut. Geo. Deichman, Second Lieut. Snowden Marshall. H.—Capt. Chas. F. Albert, First Lieut. Geo. S. Lacker, Second Lieut.

Geo. S. Jackson, Second Lieut. Samuel Hoopes, I—Capt. N. Lee Goldsborough, First Lieut. Carryl Bryan, Second Lieut. Harry Heen. K—Capt. Franklin P. Swazey, First Lieut. C. C. Anderson, jr., Second Lieut. E. A. Murray. L—Capt. B. Frank Boyden, First Lieut. Kelly Weems. Second Lieut. F. M. Franklington. Weems, Second Lieut, W. E. Middlekauff, M.—Capt. Thomas Whitridge, First Lieut, Nates Pennington, Second Lieut, Bidgley Gaither. On May 8, 1867, a number of prominent Baltimoreans met for the purpose of starting a military organization. A call was issued to the former members of the Maryland Guard, which had been organized in the fall of 1859, and which at the breaking out of the civil war consisted of about 300 men, comprising six com-panies. In response to this call about 100 members of the old organization met in the Monu-mental Assembly Rooms, May 10. At this meeting resolutions were adopted setting forth the objects, and before adjournment ninety men had enlisted in the proposed regiment. At the next meeting. May 15, the number to enlist brought the total up to over 100. An executive committee was then formed. With each succeeding meeting of the executive committee re-cruits were received. The success of the organization being now assured, it became neces-sary to secure an armory. This was found no easy matter, but eventually the building on North Howard street, known as Music Hall, was selected, at an annual rental of $3,000. State headquarters authorized the number and title of "Fifth Regiment, Maryland National Guard." On June 29, 1867, the constitution

adjutant, and Benjamin W. Jenkins, quarter-Since its organization the fifth has occupied a prominent place as a social factor in Balti-more life, but its services have always been available in support of law and order. Its en-One of the most famous and popular military organizations that took part in the inauguration is the fifth regiment of the More not as agreeable a part.
All through the trouble the fifth acted with and by-laws of the regiment were adopted, and on July 1, 1867, Gen. James R. Herbert was elected colonel; Harry D. G. Carroll, major;

Alan P. Smith, surgeon; Thomas A. Symington, national importance under Col. Brown's comtry. Col. Charles D. Gaither succeeded Col. Brown, and in May, 1890, Col. Boykin was chosen to head the gallant regiment.

LIEUT. COL. FRANK MARKOE. Lieut. Col. Frank Markoe was born in this city and is the son of Francis Markoe, for thirty-five years chief of the consular bureau of the State Department. His mother was or the State Department. His mother was Miss Maxcy, daughter of Virgil Maxcy, who was United States minister to the Hague. On his return in 1843 was killed by the explosion on board the Princeton. Col. Markoe graduated with the "A. B." degree in 1869, from the College of New York, and would have been admitted to practice law that year, but was under age. Col. Markoe is the general agent of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, which he so ably represents, and s also one of its trustees. Lieut. Col. Markoo enlisted in company H,

Royal to Cross Keys. On the mustering out of his company Col. Markoe was commissioned staff of Gen. Maxcy Gregg, serving during the and took part in the battles of Lickellet, Peach Tree, Creek Bottom and Jonesboro'. In September, 1864, reported to the command of Maj. Gen. John B. Gordon and was engaged in the fight at Cedar Creek, capture of Fort

MAJ. BOBERT RIDDLE BROWN Maj. Robert Riddle Brown was born in Baltimore in 1851. He went to St. John's College, Annapolis, Md., and graduated there in 1871, Annapolis, Md., and graduated there in 1871, and in 1873 graduated at the law school of the University of Maryland. Since then he has practiced law in the city of Baltimore. He was president of the Baltimore Club from January, 1882, to January, 1892. He joined the fifth regiment as a private in company A early in 1885, and was shortly afterward elected first heutenant of company G. In July, 1885, he was elected captain of company K, and acted in that capacity until January, 1891, when he was elected major of the regiment.

Maj. Brown has attended all the camps which the regiment has had since he joined, and has

Maj. Brown has had since he joined, and has the regiment has had since he joined, and has been on nearly all the trips, including those to Gettysburg, New York and Richmond. Under Gettysburg, New York and Richmond. Under the new drill regulations under which the regi-ment new has three battalions he is in com-

COL. HOWARD'S MEN.

The Fourth Maryland Make a Fine Shor The popular military organization of Mary land, the fourth regiment of infantry, Maryland National Guard, came on for the inauguration with a large turn out of officers and men. The headquarters of the regiment are in Baltimore. The following is the roster of its officers, field